NOTE FOR: DDCI

1. For your information.

2. FBIS Analysis Group prepared the attached report at the request of the Arms Control Intelligence Staff. It is to be used by the U.S. delegation to the U.S.-Soviet talks on limiting intermediate range nuclear forces. The report will serve a wider readership as background on the Soviet public response to the U.S. proposals announced by the President.

Sadat Assassination

FBIS coverage of developments surrounding the Sadat assassination first came from the Nicosia Bureau which was monitoring Radio Cairo during the military parade. Important material also was reported from monitoring at London of broadcasts by the Libyan radio. FBIS initiated a CRITIC message on the first official announcement of Sadat's death by Vice President Mubarak over the Egyptian radio. FBIS bureaus at Nicosia and Tel Aviv, as well as BBC monitors in London, were put on 24-hour operation to watch key radios in the wake of the assassination. To ensure that bureaus were well-staffed to handle the extensive Middle East reaction, FBIS sent monitors from London on TDY to Nicosia and Jordan, and assigned an Arabic-language officer from Headquarters to London to help in press processing.

Support for White House

FBIS Thai language officer , at State Department request, served as the U.S. interpreter for a meeting between President Reagan and Thai Prime Minister Prem on 6 October. Also attending the meeting were Secretary Haig, Presidential adviser Allen, and U.S. Ambassador Dean. On 7 October,  performed a similar function during a meeting between Prem and Vice President Bush. Attending that meeting were ambassadors Dean and Holdridge and NSC official Jim Lilley. Inasmuch as the principals in both meetings chose to speak in English, Thomas' role was primarily to take notes for the American side.
